Sailcamp Netherlands

11 - 17 August 2014

In August 2014 we offer a new and exciting travel program. It's a sailing trip on the lake 'IJsselmeer' and the Waddensea in The Netherlands. You will sail a week along with a group of up to 24 people which consists largely of deaf youths from different countries. We will visit several villages, towns and islands, and we will organize all kinds of activities and excursions.

The program includes, visiting historic dutch places, walking on the seabed, watching seals and other sea animals, cooking together and have parties!

The cost for the sailing week is € 369,- per person

For this you will get:

- A sailing week of 7 days (6 nights) on board of the ship;
- Expert guidance from experienced sailors;
- Deaf tour guides who can communicate in International Sign Language;
- Breakfast and lunch (dinner optional);
- Fun activities and excursions;
- Having a good time with a group of young deaf people.
- International contacts with deaf people from other countries, including guidance and workshops on the development of international sign language skills.

Sailcamp Netherlands

11 August - 17 August 2014

Sailship 'De Rival'.

We begin the journey in Enkhuizen where we board the sailing ship "Rival". We meet the crew and the other sailors. We sail to the first port and on the way we will get to know each other. We make our own meals accompanied by a "signing cook".

Historical places

We will visit different villages and towns on the IJsselmeer, depending on the wind, we follow a route that can lead old places like Volendam, Marken, Stavoren and Makkum. All wonderful places where the Dutch culture of 100 years ago comes to life.

Left: Volendam

Under: walking on the seabed of the Waddensea

Wadden Sea

Under the guidance of a professional crew we can teach you some sailing skills. Perhaps you can take the helm at a certain moment! After a few days we will cross over a dam and we arrive in the Wadden Sea, a nature reserve which is unique in the world. The tidal range is so strong that the water will sink so far that large parts of the seabed out to dry. You can explore the area on foot and look for special kinds of sea animals, including seals.

Right: The seals are common in the Wadden Sea. We're going to try see them up close.

Zeilvakantie Netherlands

11 August - 17 August 2014

Terschelling island

We visit the island of Terschelling in the Wadden Sea. You can relax but also do active things like bicycle trips or ride a scooter. You may also like going out, and we will certainly do! We also organize a special party, a "SignLanguage" cafe for the first time in the history of the island!

Youth

The sailing week is especially designed for young people aged 18 to 35 years.

We may decide to be flexible on this, but participation under 19 years only with written permission from the parents.
